What is Plaid?

With Plaid acting as the intermediary, financial apps are given limited access to your bank account details and are granted only the relevant information required to carry out functions that you've authorized. For more information on Venmo's use of Plaid, visit their Privacy Policy in the app.

*Venmo does not charge for sending money from a linked bank account, debit card, or your Venmo account. There is a 3% fee for sending money using a linked credit card. See Venmo User Agreement for details.
